A good, old hymn, with which everyone is familiar, tells us to "make all our wants and wishes known." This is good advice in every-day affairs. If you want boarders, if you want roomers, if you want hired help, tell the public through the Astorian. Make your wishes known. In business matters men who know how to properly use the columns of a newspaper have a huge advantage over those who don't.

A large majority of those who seek recreation at the sea coast miss the prettiest and best weather. Usually the beach is at its very finest in September and October, when the crowds are gone. NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—One of the biggest celebrations ever held on the stock exchange took place just before the closing hour this afternoon. The Seventh regiment band marched on the floor playing, and members abandoned business and closed the day in a tumult of enthusiasm over Admiral Dewey.

ROOSEVELT'S WELCOME.

Distinguished Civilians and Soldiers Pay Their Respects on Board the Flagship.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Admiral Dewey and the officers and men on the Olympia were formally welcomed to the state of New York this afternoon by Governor Roosevelt and the chief officers of the National Guard of the state who went down the bay on General Greene's yacht, the Wild Duck. Besides Governor Roosevelt, there were in the welcoming party other men whose grasp of the admiral's hand were something more than formal.

General Greene, who went with the governor, is a Manila campaigner, and for the first time since the admiral left the harbor of Manila he shook hands with some of the captains who commanded the vessels in his squadron at Manila. These were Captains Wilder, of the Boston; Dyer, of the Baltimore; Wood, of the Concord; and Coghlan, of the Raleigh.

Roosevelt was received with a salute of 13 guns. He was met at the gangway by Admiral Dewey, who conducted him to his cabin. When the governor left the Olympia, he was taken to the New Hampshire, headquarters of the naval militia, where he held a reception. Shortly before noon, General Merritt, commanding the department of the East, left Governor's island to pay his respects to the admiral. General Merritt was accompanied by his full staff. Dewey met Merritt at the head of the gangway, and after a word or two of greeting, the different officers were presented. The call lasted about half an hour, and as the army officers left the flagship a salute of 13 guns was fired in honor of General Merritt. Preparations were made at Governor's island for a return of General Merritt's call. Admiral Dewey being expected later in the day.

A tailoring establishment of some pretensions, located on Washington street, Portland, claims to have made 47 suits for dressy Astorians during the past six months. This statement is denied by the firm of Povey & Birchall, at 271 Washington street, near the Imperial hotel, who are patronized by the great majority of outside customers. Povey & Birchall make the swell suits for most of the stylish Portlanders, and feel that they are not excelled by any Portland firm for out of town patronage.
